

FURNITURE ARTWORK AT SUNRISE

Media Release – Sunrise at Wellard Estate

DEC 2013

Sunrise at Wellard is carving a name for itself. The boutique land estate located in the City of Kwinana has recently completed the first park in the estate and finished the design off with some unique, hand carved pieces.

The pieces have been carved out of remnant trees which were located in the estate, and were converted into tree furniture that the whole family can enjoy.

Among the furniture is a picnic setting based on native flora and fauna from the region, as well as a three-seater button tufted couch complete with teddy bear.

Flint Edwards, also known as ‘The Iceman’ is a well-known West Australian artist, and has been carving objects out of wood and ice professionally for 23 years.

Flint has represented Australia in a number of world-wide competitions including the Olympic World Ice Carving Championship held in Salt Lake City and in the World Championships based in Ashikawa in Japan.

The developer for Sunrise at Wellard, Amex Corporation, commissioned Flint to carve these pieces using trees located within the estate to become a talking point and create interest.

Peter Tesoriero, State Manager from Amex said that the idea was to encourage social interactions in a sustainable and inventive way.

“By having these unique pieces in the park, families can sit and enjoy a picnic around the dining table which is in the shape of gumnuts and leaves.”

“We want the community to be able to utilise these pieces together, creating a positive environment in a close knit neighbourhood.”

Also in the recently completed main park is a children’s playground and BBQs. The park is made up of a series of parks with interconnecting pathways linking the open space together.

Sunrise at Wellard is located 25 minutes south of Perth CBD with easy access to the Kwinana Freeway. The estate will offer the benefit of a close-knit community in one of Perth’s key growth corridors

For more information on Sunrise at Wellard, contact Michele Boucaut on 9368 9140, 0477 000 109 or via email micheleb@satterley.com.au.

-ENDS-

Flint the 'Ice Man' carving out the button-tufted couch.

Flint and his friends in York, working on the gumtree table.